CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Where They Can Be Advantageously lected by Shoppers of Both Sexes. As the time draws near when the children's stockings must be filled and gifts must be presented to older relatives and friends the anxiety of those who have delayed making their purchases increases. Many have not the time nor the inclination to tramp from store to store aimlessly looking for something they know not what. To those and to others who have not yet completed their Christmas shopping the following directory shows where ds of every description may be obtained and at reasonable rates. A glance over the list will enable one to make a selection and also to determine exactly where to make a purchase: Whatever else you do you must be sure not Whatever else you do you must be sure not to miss "Little Piggie Went to Market." This is the name of a handsome chromo that is given away with every two pounds of coffee or half pound of tea sold on opening day by the Great China and Japan Tea Company, 731 7th street. This is the company whose coffees are all dry roasted right here in Washington by Johnson Bros. & Co., the dry roasters. In recognition of the happy holiday season this enterprising company is also giving away a most attractive lot of Christmas dolls and presents of all sorts that are appropriate for es requisite and necessary articles, at

Among the many necessaries for a properly furnished Christmas dinner table not the least worthy of the housewife's cares should be the nuts and raisins, not to mention the always desirable mince meat. Christmas books and stationery lack nothing of attractiveness this year. Perhaps you think novelties impossible. Call at Ballantine & Soxs', on 7th street, and be undeceived. The stock of lap tablets, desks, leather goods and art books is ample Go and see for yourself.

"We are overstocked." E. F. Brooks says that in his advertisement in another portion of THE STAR. That means that lamps may be bought of him at the most surprisingly low prices. Any kind of a lamp and any kind of a price. No. 531 15th street.

Sometimes the old dolls are better beloved than the new ones. Your little one may have an old favorite from whose interior the sawdust has departed or one of dolly's eyes may be missing. Take the remains to G. F. Epwards, 509 9th street. He'll do the rest. BRODBEAD & Co. are making strenuous efforts to please their share of the multitude of Christmas shoppers now thronging the streets and avenues. The presents you desire to purchase may either be ornamental or useful. They are at BRODSEAD & Co.'s, 1819-21 14th st.

The average buyer does not usually go to a drug store to purchase fancy toilet cases, but the average buyer shrewd as he or she may imagine themselves to be, will make a mistake if the Kolb Pharmacy, at 7th and E streets, is remarkably large. Of course no real business house wants to carry a heavy assortment of such things all the year round, and that is why an extra discount of 10 per cent is announced. Here is an opportunity for the bargain hunter, for this reduction is made on prices that were said to be lower than the figures of any other firm in the city.

There is a big chance to buy something appropriate for the boys at Carter's Hardware Stone, 606 Ponnsylvania avenue northwest. BASE BALL CONSOLIDATION SURE No One Questions the Fact That the Deal Has Been Accomplished.

The base ball conference at Indianapolis tinued until late last night, with the situation publication as an advertising medium is the of affairs unchanged. The twelve-club organization is settled. Nobody questions this. The his advertising rates." THE STAR invariably trouble lies in the arrangement of details. The two conference committees, which adjourned late Wednesday night, resumed the hearing of President Williams of the Chicago club yesterday at noon. The members of the committees did not get together until so late, owing to the fatigue experienced in a twelve-hour session the preceding night. Chicago held the committee's undivided attention for four hours. It is understood she has settled satisfactorily. The committee, according to one of its mem-bers, was inclined to treat Chicago more liber-ally than any of the other frozen-out clubs.

WHAT THE CLUBS WILL BE PAID. President Williams will get every cent he has expended in getting his club together. Columbus held out for $20,000, but it was arranged to give her $18,000, and this will have to satisfy her. Milwaukee, which club, outside of Chicago, was the only one not in the "squeeze," will get the amount paid for its franchise—$7,000—and no more.

As to what the Boston and Philadelphia association poorle will receive in a matter of mere President Young of the National League will doubtless be made president of the consolidated organization and Zach Phelps of the defunct association is to be given a soft berth. The directors of the new organization will number seven, three from each division, and the president, a member ex-officio. The 50 per cent plan for the division of the receipts will be incorporated in the constitution.

A guarantee fund of 10 per cent of the receipts will be incorporated in the constitution.

There will be certain other changes in the new constitution, principal among which will be the matter of contracts with players. It has not been asserted yet whether or not the new league will return to the graded salary system, but some such agreement will more than likely be entered into. A president of one of the league clubs said yesterday that instead of the twelve-club league being organized on a five years' compact it will be for ten years, insuring the existence of the new league until the year 1901.

The train was com-posed of three passenger coaches, an express if the Kolb Pharmacy, at 7th and E streets, is neglected. The stock of fancy bottles and of highly decorated toilet and manicure cases is remarkably large. Of course no real business car and a mail and baggage car, in charge of Conductor Eli Parsons and Engineer Raub. The train was running at about twenty-five miles an hour and just south of the Cherry Creek bridge the three coaches and the express car became detached from the baggage car and engine and were suddenly harled down a high embankment, with about forty passengers, besides the trainmen, aboard. The coaches had no sooner struck the ditch than fire broke out in each car, causing a general panic. Twentysix persons were injured.

The passengers who were able went bravely to work to save the seriously injured ones and all were rescued before the fire had consumed the coaches, although quite a number of the unfortunates received severe burns. The passengers were brought to Cherry Vale, where medical aid was summoned to alleviate the sufferings of the injured ones.

Mr. Depew, who made the dedication address, was in an aphoristic mood apparently, and here are some of the thoughts he evolved:

"Among the most enlightened people of Europe education is still a privilege. In America it is a duty.

"Our time is full of hope for the optimist, and also a despair for the pessimist.

"It is the happy inspiration of youth that the distinguished characters of the past are presented through the lenses of the years in heroic proportions. It would not only be a sacrilege, it would be a calamity, if modern criticism and research stripped Washington of his majesty, Hamilton of his genius, Jefferson of his democracy, Jonathan Edwards of his intellectual superiority, or Daniel Webster of his peerless pre-eminence, but for all practical uses of the labyrinth and revolution through which we are passing the worthies of the past are as far from us as King Arthur and his Knighte of the Round Table, or William Tell with his arrow and his apple.

SENATOR DANIEL'S THANKS.

He Defines to the Virginia Legislature the Principles of the Democracy. Senator John W. Daniel made a brief speech to the members of the Virginia legislature yesterday at noon. The senate took a short recess and the members went over to the hall of the house, which was thronged. In the gathering there were many well-known persons besides members of the legislature.

The ladies, too, were well represented. Lieut. Gov. Tyler presided and introduced the Senator, who was received with applause. He thanked the members for his re-election and had something pleasant to say to his republican a few of the principles of the party to which he belongs.

The two houses at 1 o'clock reassembled, but neither was in session very long. In the senate Mr. Wickham offered a bill to authorize the issue of additional bonds and stock by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company and defining the purposes to which they are to be applied. He also introduced a bill to authorize the same company to construct or securing the same company to construct or acquire branches or extensions, and to issue its mort-gage bonds thereon, or to hold stock in and guarantee the bonds of corporations owning such branches and extensions.

Delegate Hoge, in the house, presented a bill to amend the code in relation to carrying concealed weapons. The bill makes the fine for the first offense $20 and the second, in addition to a fine, thirty days in iail. to a fine, thirty days in jail.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Turner of Norfolk to make an annual appropriation of $30,000 for the Confederate Soldiers' Home. With it were petitions from the twenty-one camps of Elected Unopposed to Parliament.

Dunbar Barton, unionist, has been elected to the British parliament in the middle division of Armagh. He was unopposed, as the constituency is a strong tory one, and the Irish party did not care to waste material for the short time yet remaining of the present parliament. In the last election Sir J. Porter Corry, conservative, received 4,160 votes to 2,522 for Robert R. Gardner, nationalist.

TROY GALLARD CONTROLLER D. ACC.

Barnaby often received letters from the doctor.

Miss Hanley attended to her correspondence.

Cross-examined, she said Mrs. Barnaby frequently complained of Miss Hanley. She used to get up in the morning and dress herself. Witness remembered Mrs. Barnaby receiving the letter in which the doctor threatened to appoint a guardian for her. This fretted her very much and she cried for several days. Witness did hear Mrs. Barnaby complain to Dr. Graves, but she told her that she had not complained. Sallie failed to get around in time to dress her. She could dress herself, though, but she could not get along very well without a maid. Miss Hanley was more attentive after the doctor arrived there.

Mrs. Hickey of Providence, who was Mrs.

Barnaby's washwoman, was next called. She had known Mrs. Barnaby and her family over thirty years. Mrs. Barnaby lived in a small house by herself, and when her husband died had told witness that her husband had left her but $2,500 per year, and she was satisfied with that.

Shortly afterward she became acquainted with Dr. Graves, and seemed to have been fascinated with him Soon after this Mrs. Bar-naby said that Dr. Graves had advised her to contest her husband's will, and she had advised them both not to do so. Later Mrs. Barnaby told witness that she was going to follow the doctor's advice, and that he wanted her to sign a paper that Maud Barnaby was not Mr. Barnaby s child. Witness advised her to do no such a thing, and Mrs. Barnaby said the doctor told her that if she could not get her rights she should have her revenge.

Again Mrs. Barnaby told her that if Mr. Barnaby could give $100,006 to his mistress she should have her rights. She said Dr. Graves told her that Mr. Barnaby had left his money to his mistress. Before becoming acquainted with Mrs. Barnaby Dr. Graves lived in a two-roomed house, but afterward he moved into a more handsome one. Mrs. Barnaby was very susceptible to flattery, and by this means Dr. Graves gained control of her until she would do anything he said. While Mrs. Barnaby was in California witness received a letter from her, in which she asked witness to watch Dr. Graves; that she had reasons to mistrust him. She answered the would tell her all missing protunciation. Particular attention given to classes in conversation and belies letters. Trial lesson free. 14.35 N. Y. ave.

Stole the Bank's Money for Two Years. John L. Ferguson was arrested in Kensas games. It is announced that the league will not openly declare in favor of Sunday games, no such games being on the schedule, but it will connive at Sunday base ball by permitting those towns which desire to play Sunday games to do so and count the same championship contests. A special to the New York World from Newport, R. Commander Lyons, in the absence of Capt. Bunce, called out the marines, who, with fixed bayonets, forced the boys to scrub the hammocks. It is charged that this outbreak is simply the result of resentment of a very rigid and exacting discipline which has prevailed since Capt. Higginson's departure.
